Why

Don't You Use

Surprise Soap?

It does away with hard work, —don't blot or scold the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper). It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash. It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

THE MANCHESTER RESOLUTIONS

The British Government at the London Conference

London, Aug. 7.—A despatch from China states, with reference to the Manchester Convention, that the Chinese Government has issued a series of orders to the provincial authorities to search out and punish the persons guilty of the outrage. The Government declares the event, which is most unfortunate for China.

THE VICTIM ALMOST BEHEADED

A Dispute Over the Right to Pick Berries in the Bush near the Origin of the Crime—Mrs. McNeil

A Victim of Her Own Arrested Jail
Preston, Ont., Aug. 7.—One of the most brutal murders ever committed in Waterloo County took place here Sunday afternoon, in the bush on the farm of Joseph B. Hickey, four miles north of here, and about the same distance south of the village of Preston. The victim was a man named Albert Jeanette, who has lived for a number of years in the neighborhood, and who has been employed during the past 10 years by Mr. Hickey, doing odd jobs around the house. On Sunday afternoon, after 1 o'clock, and before the sun had set, he was seen by the house shortly after 1 o'clock, and not returning home that night a number of persons in the neighborhood were looking for him. A search of the farm they entered, but without success. A berry patch, situated about a mile from the house, was the scene of the crime.

Plains Carried Off With Diabolical Cruelty

Poo-Chow, Aug. 7.—The survivors of the massacre at Waukegan, the scene of an interview today, said that the massacre was a diabolical crime, carefully planned, and all the arrangements made for the destruction of the mission stations and the killing of the missionaries. The massacre was a diabolical crime, carefully planned, and all the arrangements made for the destruction of the mission stations and the killing of the missionaries.

London, 6.—A despatch has been sent from the Foreign Office at Paris.

London, 6.—A despatch has been sent from the Foreign Office at Paris, stating that the Emperor and Empress of China, who are in the city, have been informed of the British soldiers residing in the city. The British soldiers are in the city, and the Emperor and Empress of China are in the city.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The State Department has received a despatch from the Chinese Government.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The State Department has received a despatch from the Chinese Government, stating that the Chinese Government has issued a series of orders to the provincial authorities to search out and punish the persons guilty of the outrage. # Scott's Emulsion

It is a REMEDY regulating and purifying the female system of circulation, and strengthening the material function in the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth, may have their origin in not good blood. It is a remedy that restores the system from disease-breeding causes.

"THE KIND THAT CURES."

There are not many forms of disease upon which Scott's Emulsion does not have a beneficial effect, because pure blood cures the disease, and building up properties. This medicine makes pure blood which builds up where disease has torn down, and carries away the impurities upon which it feeds.

“CENTENARIES.—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a friend who was a physician of the type of the stomach, his treatment also failed. I was so weak that I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor all night long. I was so weak I could not get up. I called from him in my distress. He gave me a remedy for dyspepsia and I bought a change for five bottles. The first bottle I found was delighted to find and bought six more. Under the treatment I myself getting better. I took a box of B.L.B. I gained a pound a day. I took six bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspepsia to my old friends. I received a letter from the old reliable Dr. J. C. McFARLANE, 115 Maple St.,

World's coal consumption 7,500,000 tons annually.

A Successful Combustion.—The successful combustion of the six alkali compounds of Dr. Fehner's Electric Oil is a pronounced triumph of chemistry. Whether applied externally, or to relieve pain, or to allay inflammation, or to relieve itching, or to remove a rash, it is specially and uniformly effective.

Unusually the peculiar character of the compound is so pronounced.

The right kind of a man always learns something from a mistake.

Peter Kieffer, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I was recently bitten by a horse a few days ago, and was cured by a friend who witnessed the cure of my brother, George Kieffer."

W. H. Barnham, Agent. Piton.

It relieved the pain almost immediately and after four days the wound was completely healed. Nothing can be better for frost-bitten feet.

There is no oblique way in report which takes off the sharpness of it.—Pope

A lifetime of torture is ever endured here. The rheumatism. Their pangs may, however, be promptly relieved and the diseases cured. I told with Dr. Thomas Jack, that he had, moreover, a swift and thorough remedy for the rheumatism. It is a mixture of fresh lime, coarse, excoariated nippers, is heated to a boil, then a mustard, and the affections of the breathing organs.

The leather apron worn by the blacksmith is mentioned by Pliny as being in use to this day.

One reason for cows shrinking on their milk yield prematurely is that not enough attention is paid to keeping them supplied with good water. Natural sources of dry up. Don't be afraid of having an abundance of water in the pasture for daily use. The cows will never drink more than they want.

The only most that is most analat kind is the one that is made so. No kind of wood answers such a purpose, although it is so much better than any other that will not remain on poles that are of asphaltum or other woods which are so liable to rot. The best way to make a roof is to use a mixture of asphaltum and kerosene, and that is to keep it saturated with crude petroleum. That is, to saturate a mixture composed of one quart of crude petroleum, a gill of kerosene and that a gill of spirits of turpentine.

This new and novel garment is bound be the universal shirt. You ask why it—because the front won't break pull up.

2nd—The layers passing under the front collar do not break.

3rd—Crespiration cannot touch the front collar.

4th—The collar button at the back of the collar band being covered prevents the interior and galling of the neck, which is the style of shirt does.

5th—The attachment at back to keep it
pull up.

6th—Solid comfort in wearing it.

Ladies' Side Combs.

The announcement of a stock of new designs in side and back combs ought to interest the ladies. We believe we are the first to supply the ladies' market with our respective lines, and we're particularly fortunate in our present selection of designs. The prices run from 15c to $1 per pair. These ranging at 50c, 55c and $1 are sterling silver mounted. There are no other designs in this line.

Novels.

If there is a novel you want to read and we haven't got it we can get it for you as cheaply and as quickly as anybody—we are very seldom put to the test, though—we nearly always have the very book you want. Popular authors placed in stock as soon as fast times can bring them fresh from the presses.

"Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush."
(JAN MACLAREN.)

DR. ROBERTSON NICHOL in the "British Weekly" says of the above work: "It is destined to an enviable popularity unsurpassed by any living writer."

THE WESTMINSTER GAZETTE writes: "Not merely a singularly beautiful, but a very powerful and impressive work."

MRS. CLARENCE DODD writes: "I have never been anything of the kind finer than the sketch of 'The Country Doctor.'"

THE SPECTATOR says:—"As fine an interpretation as we have yet had of the marvels of idealistic realism—their charm is their truth." The above are only a few of the many comments we have seen of this wonderful play. "Tide the Bonnie Bruish."

Other popular books are:

"THE STORY OF BESSIE COSTRELL,"
(MRS. HUMPHRY-WARD.)

"THE WOMAN WHO DID,"
(GRANT ALLEN.)

"THE MAIDENS' PROGRESS,"
(VIOLET HUNT.)

"CHIMMIE FADDEN,"
(EDWARD W. TOWNSEND.)

"THE RALSTONS," (in paper.)
(F. MARION CRAWFORD.)

"A MAN OF MARK," (ANTHONY HOPE.)

The Forest Fires.

By Thacker & D. Roberts —

The night was — — — and still with dread;
No star shone down from heaven's dome;
The ancient forest closed around
The soldier's lonely home.

There came a glare that lit the north;
There came a wind that roused the night;
At child and father slumbered on,
Nor felt the growing light.

There came a noise of flying fire,
With many a clang and loud cry;
And sharp flames crept and leaped along
The red verge of the sky.

There came a deep and gathering roar.

The farmer raised his anxious head,
Saw the light, like a dawn of blood,
That streamed across his bed.

It lit the clock on the wall,
It lit the room with a ghastly wild,
It lit the farmer trembling
Of the steep sleeping child.

The clasp doors, and pale low eaves,
And chip-strown yard and barn gmy,
Lowed crimson in the shuddering glare
Of that unutterably dead.

The horse was hurried from his sleep;
The horse was hurried from his stall;
From the pasture cleared
The cattle's frightened call.

The boy was watched to the stable-door,
Wildly, wildly the child fled;
Behind him swooped the hordes of flame,
And the horse and the boy fled.

The scorching heat was at their heels;
The huge roar hounded them in their flight.

smoke and many a flying brand flew over their heads, and the
 and past them like the wind—
 Far-riding moose, and leaping wolf
 Ferribe-eyed with fear.
 and closer drew the fiery death;
 "The father's home," the father
 the horse began to heave and fall
 Beneath the dusky load.
 and the father's white and hair
 But his eyes grew tender with love; fare-wall!
 He said: "Hold fast to your seat. Sweetheart,
 And ride Old Jerry well!
 must go back. Ride on to the river;
 Over the lock and the long marsh;
 Straight on to the town. I'll meet you, Sweetheart.
 Somewhere on the other side."
 slipped from the saddle. The boy rode 51

 laid hand fast to his horse's mane;
 his hair blew over the horse's neck;
 five small teeth wobbled with pain.
 "Father!" he cried aloud.
 The power of the fire wind answered him with his hiss of scorching flames, and crash of snuffling limbs on limbo.
 At last the good horse galloped on.
 "I will always lancee and lancee renewed;
 he lay came safe to the river ford,
 he out of the freely wood."
 At now with his kinfolk, fenced from fear,
 At play in the heart of the city's hum,
 He stops in his play to wonder why
 His father does not count "The Independent."

Daily Intelligencer.

MONDAY, AUG. 26, 1895.

A CONTRAST.

The Mail and Express call attention to the difference in the tone adopted by the Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Laurier, regarding the presentation of public works.

Mr. Laurier, in his speech, declared that public works should be presented only as needed, and to the resources of the country will allow.

Last year, Mr. Laurier visited the Territories, making speeches, as well as in Manitoba and British Columbia.

The honorable gentleman talked with him during his tour through the West. At Winnipeg the Hudson Bay Railway was his theme.

As the tour progressed westward inquiry was made into local requirements, and the public works were distributed to suit the local conditions.

At Victoria Mr. Laurier was eloquent about a lighthouse. "There is," he said, "a lighthouse on the city of Victoria."

Very positive? "A lighthouse on a rock on a plain sea?" Being of opinion that there ought to be a lighthouse there, of course the inference was that when he got hold of the reins of power he would see to it that one was built and a keeper appointed.

Other instances are given of promises made in election speeches by Reform candidates. Examples are cited from Shelburne, in Nova Scotia, where the speaker claimed that his party was the only genuine subsidizing party, and that when in power it would build a railway.

Mr. Laurier was very frank with promises, quoting from telegrams sent by the Opposition leader to the grand things that would be done for the country.

Coming west, a bridge across the St. Lawrence was promised to Quebec, the Trent Valley canal was held out as a lure to Ontario, the Hudson Bay Railway was promised to Manitoba, while Dr. Landerholm was advancing the same by the Government of all the railway liabilities.

Mr. Charlton took the ground that Governments ought not to promise public works during election campaigns, but failed to make the prohibition equally applicable to the Opposition.

In contrast to all this we desire to give prominence to the principles enunciated by Sir Mackenzie Bowell. No enticing promises to be made and public works to be promoted only as needed, and to the resources of the country allow.

It is easy for claims of this kind to be put forward. The country is vast and full of grand opportunities for both private and public investments. But scattering promises broadcast all over the wide Dominion is the work of a reckless aspirant to office, rather than the well-considered policy of a statesman.

It is in an appeal to the low and selfish side of human nature. Premier and his rivals, public men in all the responsible positions held throughout the country, should feel themselves under obligation to seek the greatest good of the greatest number. Dr. Wendell Holmes went so far as to say that every ambitious politician or village lad one of the greatest of the pole in the estimation of its inhabitants.
